Synopsis:

When brother and sister, Pablo and Malena, travel to Argentina to bury their father and unearth their past, the discovery of a mysterious diary results in supernatural occurrences.

The past and present come together as the siblings are haunted by the brutal slaying of an innocent family that took place 20 years earlier. Now they must try to figure out if the people they are trying to save are real or merely apparitions from a crime committed long ago.

What the past reveals is a much more complex story; a page of history that some ghosts do not wish to forget.
